Does your company have monthly billing, subscription fees, or membership dues?

JetPay® is a full-featured recurring payment product giving your company services beyond regular payment processing. Let JetPay put more money in the bank on each payment cycle without company or member intervention.

JetPay offers flexible, reliable service that can be tailored to meet your specific recurring payment needs. The Recurring Payments feature ensures that transactions are processed for payments that occur on a regular schedule, and the Transaction Recycling feature resubmits transactions to gain approval for items that are declined at the normal billing period.

RECURRING PAYMENTS

JetPay's Recurring Payments feature is perfect for bills or fees that occur on a regular basis. For example, monthly or quarterly subscription or membership fees can be processed systematically on a set schedule.

- Full recurring qualification transactions need to be populated with the proper recurring information when an authorization is performed.
- Cards that have expired get new expiration dates and are authorized without customer intervention.
- Upgraded customer card numbers are retrieved from the issuer without customer intervention.
- Billing information is stored in a secured facility.

TRANSACTION RECYCLING

Transaction recycling is an additional feature of the Recurring Payments engine. If your client gets a "decline" at the normal billing period, JetPay will continue to work the transaction based on internal rules for up to 15 days to receive an approval. This procedure happens without merchant or client intervention. Approvals received by the JetPay Transaction Recycling engine reduce customer service costs and decrease cancelled service requests.

Less cancelled service translates into more profit to the bottom line.

ACCOUNT UPDATER

With card-based payments so prevalent in everyday transactions, your business has undoubtedly seen decreases in deposits when your customers fail to notify you of a change in their credit card account information. The JetPay Account Updater electronically retrieves the most current cardholder information and updates the account. Account Updater helps you reduce declined card transactions and the resulting chargebacks.

THE POWER OF JETPAY

JetPay's flexible service can meet your business needs through its innovative services. Recurring Payments and Transaction Recycling features ensure that your company receives its payments without the hassle of extra steps. The JetPay system performs the steps for you—automatically. ■
